ON THE Light SIDE

At a primary care clinic in Texas, an older woman found one reason or another to visit daily. She had few friends and like to chat with the doctors and nurses. They in turn, treated all of her medical complaints with seeming concern and compassion.

Showing up one afternoon after being absent for over a week, a nurse asked her why she hadn't been there in so long.

The lady responded, "I've been sick all week."
